

A note concerning the privacy of submissions

Your submissions will not be “public” – they will not be shared widely, published on the web, etc. However, we expect to discuss them with funding agency representatives and perhaps selected others. If you have comments that you would prefer not be attributed to you – for example, specific concerns that you would like to express regarding the administration of particular related programs – please put them in a separate file, on a page that carries your name and affiliation but is marked at the top “For the Steering Committee Only.” We will treat this material with discretion.
